Dear Mr. Lennahan:

I am sorry to be so late in answering your request. I'm afraid that your letter was misplaced, and I have just now come across it again.

Unfortunately, the lectures as a whole are only in manuscript form at present; although I expect to publish them eventually, I have had no time to put them in final form. However, I do have copies of the first lecture, and I am happy to enclose one. It will probably undergo substantial revision, along with the other lectures; I may have the others reproduced in the same form within the next few months, in which case I will send you a set.

Sincerely yours,
